

Want to feel like you really make a difference? Ready to take that next step in your career? If so, read on...

Guardian was “re-born” with a simple objective....to make life better. It’s at the core of everything we do, and we’ve worked hard to turn an idea into an exciting business proposition. We’ve brought together the best capability, technology, and people to create a business that challenges conventional thinking, and approaches things differently.

We believe that by being trusting we will be trusted in return. For our business that means providing Financial Advisers and their clients with products and services that they can be certain of. For you that means being part of a team where you can really make a difference, and part of a culture that is driven to make life better. You’ll be in an environment that you can trust to do everything it can to help you grow and succeed.

If you are looking for an exciting career in Claims and be part of an innovative and growing business then join us at Guardian to experience ‘Life. Made better’.

What you’ll be doing

The Claims Team Manager role reports to the Head of Claims and is responsible for the operational running and performance of the Claims Specialist and Claims Support teams, including workflow management and service delivery, as well as the performance management and development of staff members.

Key Responsibilities

- Operational running of the Claims team including service delivery within agreed SLA’s
- Workflow management and reporting of KPI’s
- Working with experts across the business to build-out our workflow management and reporting capability
- Developing, reviewing, and updating claims processes and procedures and identifying ways to continually improve the operational performance of the Claims team
- Performance management of the Claims team
- Driving the personal and professional growth of claims team members by helping them build and achieve their own personal development plans
- Helping to grow our Claims team culture and brand
- Acting upon QA, complaints, and process breaches to identify and input into training of Claims team members
- Represent the Claims team across the business as required by the Head of Claims
- Contribute to and lead on projects working closely and collaboratively with the Technical Claims team and the Head of Claims
- Helping to manage third party relationships, costs, and expenses
- Working with the Technical Claims team to ensure Claims team adherence with current financial, FOS, regulatory, legal and industry guidelines in processing claims, including DPA.

Who we need?

Ideally, you'll have the following experience:

Ideally, you will have:

- A passion for great customer service
- A desire to help develop those around you
- Experience of working in a Claims environment, and a knowledge of Life, Critical Illness and Disability claims management
- A proactive and collaborative nature
- The ability to navigate ambiguity and work with colleagues across the business to drive improvements in the claims proposition

To support this experience, you'll have special skills or qualities such as:

- Excellent communication skills, both verbal and written
- Strong planning and organisational skills
- A proven track record in service delivery and team management

If you are interested in this role and would like to know more, you can access the full job description and apply by going to iCIMS Careers Portal

This full-time role can be based in our Reading office, at home, or a hybrid of the two.

Want to know more before deciding whether to apply? Drop me, Phil Deacon, an email at Phil.Deacon@Guardian.co.uk and I'll be happy to tell you what you can expect from this exciting opportunity.

I hope to hear from you.