There is in excess of 510,000 applications on risk in HSBC's portfolio. The department adheres to service level agreements and control of risk decisions to ensure only valid claims are paid. The jobholder protects the company's contractual objectives in relation to adhering to the policy terms and conditions, regulatory risk, contractual, legal and inland revenue legislation Is accountable for claims paid, Namely £80 million per annum. Claims Payment Authority - £1 million. Write-off Authority - £250.00. Medical Fees Authority - £5,000. The jobholder will have sign off cases up to HSBC's retention. (£120,000 for Critical Illness, £250,000 death claims) Will assess referrals from claims managers for complex cases outside of their own authority levels Deliver training to all staff in respect of changes to claims procedures. The jobholder will refer to the Senior Claims Manager for any cases where legal or media intervention is likely or has occurred. Or a decision is outside of the job holder's authority levels.
Management of Risk (Operational Risk / FIM requirements)

The jobholder will ensure the fair treatment of our customers is at the heart of everything we do, both personally and as an organisation. This will be achieved by consistently displaying the behaviours required to support the Best Place to Bank principles of Make Better Products, Sell Them Properly and Keep Them Sold.

The jobholder will also continually reassess the operational risks associated with the role and inherent in the business, taking account of changing economic or market conditions, legal and regulatory requirements, operating procedures and practices, management restructurings, and the impact of new technology.

This will be achieved by ensuring all actions take account of the likelihood of operational risk occurring. Also by addressing any areas of concern in conjunction with line management and/or the appropriate department.

The activities undertaken by the jobholder are claims risk assessment, direct customer contact, monitoring of claims experience with recommendations communicated to product design team, underwriting, pricing, marketing and sales force. There are severe financial consequences if an invalid claim is accepted. This will result in serious losses to HSBC, hence the jobholder has quality controls in place and has input into an appeals panel to discuss contentious issues.

The job is highly technical and deals with complex cases, which involve media attention, legal ombudsman intervention and liaison with the customer's legal representative. The decision could be to pay a valid claim or decline a claim due to fraudulent, negligent or misrepresentation grounds.

It is a vital requirement that suitable controls are in place in order to monitor the performance, activity and costs of all third party providers (both in-sourced and out-sourced) involved in the claims process. Ensure that these providers do not represent a negative monetary or reputational value to HSBC and adhere to the guidelines published by Insurance Head Office.

Observation of Internal Controls (Compliance Policy / FIM requirements)

The jobholder will also adhere to and be able to demonstrate adherence to internal controls. This will be achieved by adherence to all relevant procedures, keeping appropriate records and, where appropriate, by the timely implementation of internal and external audit points, including issues raised by external regulators.

The jobholder will implement the Group compliance policy by containing compliance risk in liaison with Global Head of Compliance, Global Compliance Officer, Area Compliance Officer or Local Compliance Officer. The term 'compliance' embraces all relevant financial services laws, rules and codes with which the business has to comply.

This will be achieved by adhering to all relevant processes/procedures and by liaising with Compliance department about new business initiatives at the earliest opportunity. Also and when applicable, by ensuring adequate resources are in place and training is provided, fostering a compliance culture and optimising relations with regulators.

The role is involved with the management of a number of third party suppliers, this includes the governance side and Ensuring that the relationships are effectively managed in line with the IFIM, purchasing, legal and compliance guidelines.

Role Dimensions (e.g. balance sheet size, lending/expenditure limits, size/volume of transactions, budget)

- £80 million pounds per annum paid in value claims
- Role has payment authority of £1 million per case

This role is a vital requirement to ensure that INGB has the appropriate procedures and mechanisms in place to control risk appetite and legislative changes. These mechanisms must remain within the guidelines stipulated by IHO, IFIM and its reassurance treaties. Ensure that new products, procedures, changes in legislation, medical enhancements and industry best practice are implemented using strict project management disciplines. Ensuring that these drivers for change do not represent any detrimental impact on customer experience, reputational risk or monetary loss to HSBC.
