

What the evidence says

- Work is generally good for you
- 2/3 of long term sickness is caused by common health problems, which should be preventable
- Common health problems can not be left to health care alone; Employers must share responsibility for return to work process
- Workers do not need to be 100% fit or symptom free to return to work
- Adjustments and support can accommodate most common health problems
- Temporary modified duties are one of most effective methods of facilitating a return to work

(Waddell & Aylward, 2010)

HCF Clinical team session

4

SHIFT...

Line managers' resource.

A practical guide to managing and supporting people with mental health problems in the workplace.

Updated edition.

Download the PDF of the Shift: Line Managers' Resource from <http://www.shift.org.uk/employers>

HCF Clinical team session

5

Source: Shift Line Managers guide

We gratefully acknowledge the work of Swiss Re's Global Health & Insurance Intelligence

6

What will help Mr Oneinfive stay at work?

- Promoting a culture whereby there is open communication between employees and line managers
- Flexible support measures to suit the individual needs
- Increased awareness in the workplace of mental health issues to promote an open and supportive environment
- Formal and informal support from line managers and colleagues
- Actively engaging him the employee in discussions around support measures to support them in the workplace
- A positive, supportive early response with timely, on going follow up and support
- Access to support outside of the workplace when required

Scottish Association of Mental Health. (2011). What works? Supporting mental health in the workplace. Retrieved from <http://www.samh.org.uk/events/dismissed-campaign/what-works-supporting-mental-health-in-the-workplace>

HCF Clinical team session

7

Reasonable adjustments for people with common mental health conditions

- Equality Act 2010
- An employer has a duty to make reasonable changes for disabled applicants and employees
- Reasonable = practical, realistic, cost considerate. Depends upon size of employer, £ turnover and what is feasible within that environment
- Possible adjustments
 - working arrangements; hours, start/finish times, targets, time for appointments
 - equipment, environment, support
- Best practice for an employer to engage with the employee to develop, but not a legal requirement

HCF Clinical team session

8

Getting back into work - Return to work plans

- A structured document
- Developed through open communication between employee & employer
- A tool to ensure occupational health & treating practitioners know what is happening
- A tool to monitor progress & ensure all parties with what is happening and when
- A method of communication between individual, line manager, treating practitioner
- A focus on what can be done, not what can not
- Sets clear expectations for everyone and has an end point

HCF Clinical team session

9

Keeping those with common mental health conditions in work – Wellness plans

- Before an individual is off work or once they are back in the workplace
- A framework for developing an effective approach to overcoming symptoms and unhelpful behaviours
 - a personal document
 - could be developed with work and used as a monitoring document
 - set up once RTW plan is completed
 - supports the individual to remain at work and prevention of future absence
- A personal guide to supporting wellness and recovery
- Prompt for line manager – do you have a wellness plan, would you like to develop one? This is something we could do together

HCF Clinical team session

10

Activity: in pairs

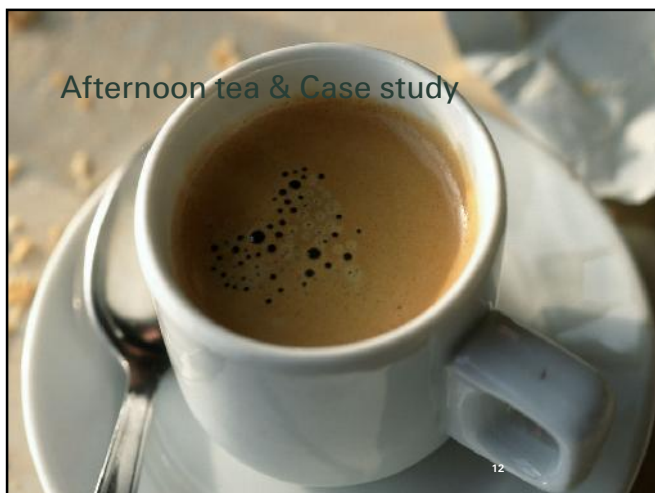

- The room is sectioned into three
- Which group you are in determines the activity you will complete, in pairs and on your tables
- Group 1: Workplace adjustments for people with mental health conditions
- Group 2: Developing and monitoring RTW plans ; the line manager's role
- Group 3: Wellness plans; keeping those with mental health conditions in work

HCF Clinical team session

11

Afternoon tea & Case study

12

Swiss Re
iii

Case study: Mr Oneinfive

- What are some possible reasonable adjustments?
- What are the key steps to help with a return to work?
- What are some actions that could help him stay in work?

HCF Clinical team session 13

Swiss Re
iii

What does this all mean to claims assessors?

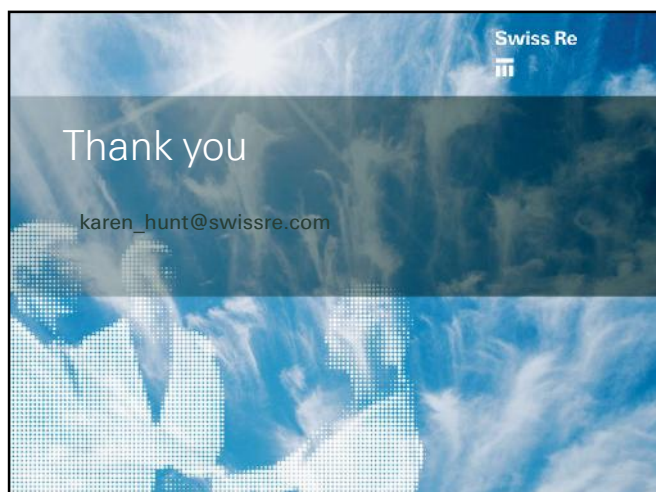

- ☎
- Best practice information
- ☎
- Resources to encourage claimants to engage with their workplace
- ☎
- Things to talk about with employers and claimants
- ☎
- Sign posting to support for employers who require assistance
- ☎

HCF Clinical team session 14

Swiss Re
iii

Thank you

karen_hunt@swissre.com

Legal notice

©2012 Swiss Re. All rights reserved. You are not permitted to create any modifications or derivatives of this presentation or to use it for commercial or other public purposes without the prior written permission of Swiss Re.

Although all the information used was taken from reliable sources, Swiss Re does not accept any responsibility for the accuracy or comprehensiveness of the details given. All liability for the accuracy and completeness thereof or for any damage resulting from the use of the information contained in this presentation is expressly excluded. Under no circumstances shall Swiss Re or its Group companies be liable for any financial and/or consequential loss relating to this presentation.
