

Role: Senior Claims Assessor
Location: Edinburgh
Salary: Competitive

Job Details

At Scottish Widows, our Health Claims & Estates department play a vital role in ensuring our customers' needs are at the heart of everything that we do during one of the most difficult times in their life. The role is based within our Dalkeith Road office in Edinburgh, where we currently have an opportunity for a Senior Claims Assessor to join the team.

Working patterns are currently based around 35 hours per week, Monday to Friday 08.00 to 18.00.

You will be responsible for operating within clearly defined quality measures and personal authority limits. This role includes some telephony based customer contact and requires candidates who are proactive, can work to tight deadlines and possess excellent decision making skills.

Skills/Key Accountabilities

- Fully versatile and competent on all claim types (critical illness, terminal illness, income protection, waiver of premium benefit) with full sign off.
- Ability to manage own case portfolio and adherence to personal Claims Authority Limits whilst adhering to business timescales and needs.
- Be responsible for mentoring less senior colleagues and leading their development and training.
- Responsibly for completion and associated follow up work and feedback for overall quality checking, including call monitoring and scoring
- Ability to present and tailor messages to differing audiences
- Lead projects to conclusion and perform and produce associated follow up work whilst adhering to business timescales and needs.
- Be skilled in the analysis of management information and be able to present to stakeholders as per the business need.
- Devise and present training sessions for both team members and other areas of the business where required.
- Expected to be available to attend and represent Scottish Widows at relevant external Claims Industry events.
- A minimum of 5 years experience within a Health Claims/Death Claims environment covering a range of products.
- Recognised authority limits across a mixture of claim types.
- Analytical skills [MI]
- Proven ability to present to an audience.
- Excellent communication skills are essential along with the ability to manage the customer's expectations throughout the claims process.
- Meeting targets including accuracy, quality and volume to an agreed service level.
- Telephony experience essential.
- Ideally the candidate should hold the CII Claims paper or be willing to work towards this within a period of 12 months.

To apply please follow this link –

<https://careers.lloydsbankinggroup.com/Candidate/VacancyInformation.aspx?VacancyId=156399>

Contact name: Dave Thompson

Contact email: dave.thompson@scottishwidows.co.uk