

NURSE SUMMARY REPORT

All the medical information you need in one concise, easy-to-digest report

What we do

Patient records and medical notes can be confusing and hard to decipher. Sifting through to find the pertinent data is a laborious job for a claims assessor and often an uneconomical use of their time.

Our Nurse Summary Reports (NSRs) are completed by fully qualified nurses and present the salient points in a clear, easy-to-digest format.

Why we're different

MDG Nurse Summary Reports offer:

- A cost-effective way of obtaining relevant data from patient records
- Reports carried out by qualified nurses who are specially trained in the claims field
- Tailored information: our nurses will compile their reports based on your specific queries for each case
- Fast turnaround times
- Clear, easy to read summaries available to access via our web-based claims management platform
- Only the relevant information needed by the claims assessor

Performance Indicators

Nurse Summary Report (Template or Targeted):

- 90% of completed NSR instructions will be returned to clients in under 15 business days

NSR Further Information Request (Targeted):

- Following a review of the NSR, a follow up targeted request can be submitted to the nurse who completed the NSR
- 90% of completed NSR further information requests will be returned to clients in under 5 business days

Client & claimant benefits

Our trained professionals review claimants' medical documents and extract the relevant information, freeing up claims assessors' time. Claimants benefit from the accuracy and speed provided by the use of Nurse Summary Reports, while clients are able to deploy in-house resources more effectively.

What we do

As a pioneer of telephone-based services for the UK insurance market, MDG Medicals Direct is the natural choice for outsourced tele-claims. Drawing on our extensive experience, we provide a seamless tele-claims service which forms an integral part of the claims management process.

About tele-claims

We use qualified nurses, employed to carry out interviews over the phone with claimants, in order to accurately capture as much information as possible about the claim. Our tele-claims service offers several advantages:

- Bespoke transcripts/claim forms can be used to quickly and accurately capture detailed information
- Speaking directly to the claimant increases customer satisfaction levels, enhances external perceptions of the client and allows for clarifications of questions where necessary
- We do not charge set-up costs for creation of, or amendments to, transcripts
- Tele-claims offers a cost-effective solution for managing existing claims which are under review

Why we're different

Two core elements of the tele-claims process differentiate Medicals Direct Group from other tele-claims service providers: our systems and our people.

We only use office-based nurse employees to carry out our clients' tele-claims interviews. This allows us full control over the security of our clients' data and facilitates quality monitoring. Our nurses are trained to understand insurer concerns and objectives.

Our proprietary tele-claims system, TIARA, incorporates state of the art recording software to produce call files which are attached at case level along with the transcript, for ease of access. Calls can be audited for quality and training purposes either by Medicals Direct or the client themselves, as required. Bespoke scripts are produced for each client to reflect individual insurer policy.

Critical or serious illness

For these types of claims, claimants can be offered a nurse contact, available over the phone throughout the claims process, from initial interview to resolution, providing support and advice 24/7, 365 days a year.

Managing existing claims

More and more clients are turning to tele-claims in order to manage their claims books. Tele-claims provides a means of assessment which is quick, efficient and more cost-effective than traditional methods.

NURSE VISITS

Clients receive completed claim forms and AMRA consent on the day of the nurse visit

What we do

Our UK and Ireland network of over 500 nurses is available to visit claimants at home or in the workplace to obtain detailed information on levels of injury and illness. Nurse visits can be organised, tracked and reported on, via our proprietary claims management platform, Claimstrak.

Why we're different

The introduction of the MDG Medicals Direct Trackberry system has revolutionised turnaround times on nurse visit reporting. The Trackberry system harnesses the latest technology to enable our nurses to provide instant, secure completion of forms. By using the paperless Trackberry system, in conjunction with our claims management platform, Claimstrak, we are able to provide Claims Assessors with the AMRA consent and completed data capture questionnaire or claim form on the same day as the nurse visit takes place.

Cost-effectiveness

You'll find the cost of our nurse visit and data capture form is around half that offered by traditional service providers using paper-based processes.

Appointments

We aim to book nurse visits within 7 days of the request being received (subject to claimant availability). We always attempt to contact the claimant three times to arrange the appointment before reverting back to the client.

Client & claimant benefits

Our paperless system for nurse visits offers clear benefits for both clients and claimants, including:

- Engaging with the claimant early on in the claims process
- Providing clear information to the claimant regarding next steps
- Significantly improved turnaround times
- Significantly reduced costs compared to paper-based system
- Providing clients with quality and data specific reports
- Easily accessible claims data for audits and MI

EVIDENCE GATHERING

What we do

MDG has developed comprehensive evidence-gathering processes and systems which enable insurers to make informed decisions, reduce medical and administration costs and speed up end-to-end process times. Our services and systems are designed to be used by clients to effectively manage their claims books, comprising protection, disability, health, creditor or general insurance products.

Why we're different

Our evidence-gathering service offers:

- 40% reduction in medical evidence costs compared to traditional methods
- 35% faster turnaround times than traditional methods
- 25% reduction in administration costs compared to traditional methods
- A centralised system, Claimstrak, which makes it easy for clients to manage their books of claims
- A technical letter creation system which saves time and reduces the likelihood of human error
- Automated alerts to keep key stakeholders up to date
- Increased control via detailed management information

Our areas of expertise

- Tele-claims: bespoke transcripts or claim forms are completed accurately and quickly
- Nurse visits: data capture reports are submitted using our Trackberry technology
- Occupational evidence: liaising with employer, employee and occupational health to obtain information on working environment, vocational rehabilitation and return-to-work options

- Financial evidence gathering: creation and despatch of technical letters via Claimstrak
- Standard and bespoke chasing protocols with updates provided via Claimstrak
- Virtual access: all returned evidence is attached to the case file on Claimstrak for ease of viewing

Client & claimant benefits

A faster, more streamlined evidence-gathering system benefits all stakeholders, including insurers, reinsurers and end customers. Benefits include:

- Reduced costs through fast, accurate data
- A system which allows claimants to track their own claims
- Claimants who are engaged throughout the claims process
- Detailed management information which allows a high level of stakeholder control
- A system which can be used to manage both individual and group claims books
- Flexible pricing models

ABSENCE TRACKING

Our web-based application provides real time case file updates and tracking

What we do

Ideally suited to HR, occupational health departments and insurance companies, our absence tracking module helps identify and address the needs of an absent employee as early as possible, thereby increasing the likelihood of an effective return to work. Equally, the module can assist the employee through an ill health retirement or long-term disability claim process. Stakeholders are able to access centralised absence data, track progress and add updates via our secure online application.

Why we're different

MDG Medicals Direct absence tracking includes:

- Access to web-based absence management platform
- Electronic case file referrals
- Access to menu driven services including pre-employment screenings, occupational health and case management services
- Transparent process with rigid cost controls
- Real time case file updates
- Online management information
- Platform and processes can be integrated into group risk claims or early retirement procedures

Absence: a significant cost to your business

The financial benefits of monitoring and reducing sickness absence speak for themselves: according to the CBI's Absence & Workplace Health Survey 2010, the cost of sickness absence to UK industry in 2009 reached £17bn, with the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development (CIPD's) annual Absence Management Survey Report calculating the cost to employers to be £693 per employee, per year.

MEDICAL INTERVENTION

All medical interventions can be requested and tracked securely online 24/7

What we do

Early access to medical professionals is vital in order to achieve sustained positive outcomes for individuals suffering from illness, injury or work-related disorders. MDG Medicals Direct manages nationwide teams of professionals, allowing us to coordinate a wide variety of specialisms in-house.

Why we're different

Our medical interventions offer:

- A tried and tested infrastructure for managing nationwide networks across medical specialties
- Access to physiotherapists, counsellors, nurses, doctors, consultants, psychiatrists, ergonomists and other specialists across the UK
- Access to in-house occupational health doctors to advise claims assessors
- The ability to request and track the progress of all medical interventions via our web-based claims management platform, Claimstrak

- A transparent pricing model, making it easy to control costs
- An overriding focus on clinical excellence to produce optimum outcomes in the shortest possible time
- Enhanced communication and information-sharing between different specialisms

Client & claimant benefits

Claimants benefit from an efficient, well-managed system which provides targeted treatment underpinned by clear channels of communication. By coordinating various professionals to work together on an individual's rehabilitation, MDG Medicals Direct assists the client to provide the best possible opportunity for a swift recovery, thus enhancing customer experience, shortening the life of the claim and reducing costs.
